ABOUT THE SUMMER SCHOOL AGAINST HATE SPEECH:

This year CID is organizing the 10th School against Hate Speech.

The summer school against hate speech is going to gather 20 young people. The group of youngsters will be mixed, ensuring diversity based on sex, ethnicity, geographical location, religion etc.

The main topics of the school are going to be:

- Tackling hate speech;
- Online hate speech and
- Countering narratives.

The Summer school against Hate Speech overall goal is to stimulate and support different mechanisms for effective response to online hate speech and to raise awareness of different online bullying in order to protect the rights of all citizens.

The training will be co-facilitated bilingually in Macedonian and Albanian and, where applicable, in English, with translation support for those who have difficulties in one of the languages.

Methods of non-formal education will be used during the trainings and the sessions consist of group work, simulations, role plays, and plenary discussions which will diversify the process and it will adapt to each learners' ability. The training will be implemented outside of Kumanovo with an aim to create a better dynamics and team building, considering the diversity of the group of young people, but also will provide a space for the youngsters to get out of their communities and reflect on the issues and connections in the same.
